[From Morning Edition.]
The impromptu jollification has night was immense for crowd noise and general enthusinsm. The wigwant was packed to suffocation at an early hour by a perfect jam of wildly happy republicans, who were determined to julley then and there, and there was no power under the sun to keep them from it.

Chairman Parsons called the meeting to order and attempted to state the object of the meeting, but the mere fact that somebody was making a republican speech was sufficient to keep the crowd in an uproar of cheers, in which the bellowing of horas, the jangle of bells, and the noises made by unname : instruments of noise commirgled in an indescribable din.

E. S. Wailace was called upon to preside, and the "love feast" began in the old-fishioned way, with the Springfield accompani-more important than the one already read Another was read from Vinton county, saying that that "little rockribbed" democratic county had given Hoadly but 21 plurality, and that McClure, the republican representative, was elected. This was greeted with a cyclone of cheers. The speaking could hardly go on for the "boys" wanted to yell, and they did yell. Gen. Kiefer, Judge Miller, Jacob Lisle, D. A.

Rudd, of Columbus, Geo. C. Rawlins, Walter Weaver, Michael O'Neal, Harry Rabbitts, Saymore Harrold, of South Charleston, and Thus, Jewett made ringing speeches, which were interspersed with music by the band, and singing "Marching through Georgia," "Union Forever" in such volume of voice from that great audience that endangered the roof of the wigwam. The climas of the occasion was put on by the Reising brothers with cornet and bass solos, both of which were received as they deserved, with a torrent of applause.

BUSINESS. As the present demonstration was regarded as an impromptua fair and not fully commensurate with the great victory achieved, it was decided to appoint a committee to consider whether it would be advisable to hold the grand state julification at Springfield. The following were appointed to confer with the citizens generally in regard to the matter: A. S. Bushnell, Wm. N. Whitely, Gen. Keifer, J. S. Miles, John Foos, O. S. Kelly, John W. Parsons, K. F. Hayward, W. S. Wilson, Jas. Biskeney, Jacob B. Lisle, Jas. Foley, Mi-chael O'Neal and Geo. C. Rawlins. The committee was notified to meet at St. John's building this afternoon at 2 o'clock, and the their action in the matter will be made through the papers. NOTES.

Annual Tournament Postponed till Tursday, Oct. 20 Scores of Matches.

[From Morning Edition.] The continued rain Tuesday was a dampper upon the Gun club, and by 10 o'clock the proposed tournament was decided off, and the date set for Tuesday, Oct. 20, when the programme will be carried out in full as published in the Sunday GLORE-REPUBLIC, and upon the printed circulars. As the skies leared off about noon, it was decided to hold match, beginning at one o'clock, and some fixteen shooters and a goodly number of spectators met upon the club grounds. The raw weather and high wind not only made the light of the pigeons extremely uncertain, but affuenced the shot, and but poor scores were made, not a single straight being recorded. Only one prize match was contested, an extra one, upon the regular programme. The conditions were ten single and five pairs of double Ligowsky clay birds at eighteen and fifteen yards rise, $1 entrance. of which fifty cents went to the club fund to defray in part the expenses of the home team o Greenville, where they will contest for the Ligowsky medal, the balance for the clay birds and the trapping. The prizes were denated as follows: First, one bucket containing ten pounds of

"Bull Dog" fine-cut tobacco, valued at #9, from Dan Nickum, sgent of the "Bull Dog" company.

Second, A fine meerchaum pipe, with andsome carved Turk's head, value $8, donated by Warren Carter, of the Palace cigar

Third, One pair of the best quality hip canvess and leather leggins, donated by P. Slack & Sons. "Aston," Geo. A. Warder, with sixteen to his credit won the first prize. Mesers. Perrin, Wilson, Slack and Fisher, with each thirteen, tied for the second, and after a hotly contested "shoot off" the trophy was carried off by Mr. "Bussy" Wilson. The third prize was won by T. J. Monahan with a score of twelve. The next match was at ten single clay birds, with the following results:
